

The Global OHNS Initiative and Emory University serve as the central hub (blue), and regional representatives in the six WHO regions (orange) act as liaisons to individual partner sites (green).